Our Silent Tribune

Our worthy Chief Magistrate has of late become wonderfully incommunicative. It is evident that he is seeking to fix his name in history as Andy the Silent. Nobody knows how long it has been since he made his last speech to a rebel and Copperhead auditory. Democratic papers have for many weeks been deprived of those elegant oratorical efforts with which they were once blessed, and which were so well suited to their columns. A while ago the President was open, frank, communicative and plain spoken. Now, he is moody, reserved, taciturn and incomprehensible. Newspaper correspondents, high officials and the quid nunes generally are all at fault. They can elicit no utterance from him. Not one could melt an opinion out of him. His lips are resolutely sealed against all temptations to speak. He is evidently deeply impressed with the value of what Sidney Smith calls a "few well-timed flashes of silence." Such conduct in one who has sacrificed so much for his country is quite unaccountable. Surely he has sacrificed enough already without also sacrificing his propensity for speaking in public. Besides, his speeches have done an infinite amount of good; why, therefore, should he cease talking? "My husband's tongue," said the excellent mother of Felix Holt, "had have been a fortun' to anybody, and there was many a one said it was as good as a dose of physic to hear him." Millions can testify that it is as good as a dose of physic to hear the Humble Individual, but few either of his admirers or his enemies will agree that his tongue has been a fortune to him. But however unruly that member has been heretofore, he is now determined to show that he has it under perfect command. His admirers will miss his oratory; but (to quote the language Seward used after reading the famous effort of the 22d of February) "the country will be happy."

In Nevada, Ashley, Union candidate for Congress, has about 800 majority. For Governor, Blasdell, Union, has a majority of 1,000 or upwards. The balance of the Union State ticket is elected by 12,00 to 13,00 majority. Local differences and private jealousies reduced the Union majority this year much below the majority of 1864.

Our San Francisco dispatch gives information of a terrible marine disaster which occurred a few days ago, near Santa Cruz, California. If the account be true, the disaster involves a greater loss of life than any similar calamity that has happened on this coast for years.

The Virginia Union, a steady and able Union journal during the war, turned Copperhead a year and a half ago and now turns Union again. It has more than completed the circle.

Earthquake at the Dalles!

Our Dalles correspondent (Nov. 25th) sends the following intelligence:

"Our city has at last become a second San Francisco—that is to say, as far as earthquakes are concerned. Yesterday morning, at 10 minutes past 10 o'clock, (Saturday) we experienced a heavy shock of earthquake, which lasted five or six seconds. The first sensation noticed was a heavy, yet dull rumbling sound and trembling, resembling thunder. This lasted some three seconds, then oscillations followed, accelerating east and west, so severe that lamp fixtures hanging to ceilings and pictures and mirrors hanging to walls, swayed to and fro frightfully. In several instances, men ran out into the street as they stood. The sheet iron and stove store of Messrs. Bunnell & Miller on Main street, was shaken so that all the tinware and stoves made such a terrible din that the occupants ran frantically into the street, fearing that they were to be enveloped in a mass of ruins. Had there been any thrower four story brick buildings in town they certainly would have been badly damaged, if not thrown down.

News from Umatilla as late as 11-40 A. M., yesterday, says a slight shock was felt there at about the same time it was felt here."

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 22.

Kentucky Politics

Louisville Nov 22—The Stock Convention for Kentucky, is to be held at Frankfort on the 3rd February. Leading Copperheads propose to the St to have one element of the Convention, and to [illegible] the Constitutional amendment [illegible] proposed by Congress.

Rebel Suffrage in Tennessee.

Nashville Nov 22—[illegible] Honey Copperhead Governor elect, will [illegible] on the 1st of March next. On Saturday night the Legislature passed a bill [illegible] to the people at the present election, for the adoption or rejection of the Constitutional amendment. The bill [illegible] will be corrected to-day, and the election will probably take place in a few days. The question is an important and feverish one with the people here.

News from Montana.

St Louis Nov 22—Full and late advices from Montana show half a million in gold dust. Fort Benton. The Missouri river is open to the depth of three feet and navigation will probably continue for many days. Two steamers with [illegible] on board the ice and [illegible] in gold dust.

Heavy Failures—Business in Boston

Boston Nov 20—Five more failures today that two firms have failed in the last week for seventeen million dollars. Three more will follow on the wholesale.

The import trade of Boston this year will amount to or fall under 2 millions. Shipping charges will reckon online, the value in currency, the business of Boston this year therefore, has reached the highest figures ever known in her commercial history.

Telegraphic Matters.

Chicago, Nov 24—Since Mr Simonton's appointment to the agency of the New York Associated Press three weeks ago many healthful and much needed reforms have been inaugurated and the affairs of the Bureau have progressed smoothly against obstacles that would have appalled if not paralyzed the most experienced chief. It was found that nearly all the principal manuscripts from Europe to the Pacific were filled with Craig's tools and as transcription as their leaders and only waiting his nod to depart Simonton in a body. Craig took rooms adjoining Simonton's as I found from there his flaming parchments. That he did not consent to erasions on the 14th inst is Simonton's strategy in heading him off and preventing a wholesale desertion of agents. It at he last to gunn to himself any promise of support by the organization of the country is dead to his personal unpopularity among editors who have for many years growled under the burdens which seemed impossible to bear. There was one unanimous "amen" when Craig's head went into the basket, and his subsequent mad fanfarons have only made the editors of New England either powerful cities more determined that he shall not again be clothed with any power over the press of the country. Craig now announces that he will begin next Monday the 26th, but his agency will probably amount to no more than the sale of news and the gratuitous furnishing of it to a few starving papers such as cannot buy it of the regular association. The editors of publishers of all the powerful papers of the country are now in New York conferring with Simonton and the New York editors upon the plans whereby the associated press can be made more effective under the new management.

Surratt Again.

Chicago, Nov 24—Washington specials say the Government is yet without advices in reference to the arrest and escape of John Surratt as announced by the cable. This much, however, was known, that Surratt was traced to Richmond and from there supposed to have gone to Scotland via Canada where he took refuge in a Catholic Convent. It is not considered probable that he will ever be returned to this country.

Frauds on the Revenue Department.

New York, Nov 24—Two more distilleries were seized yesterday. The disclosures of distillery frauds here are astonishing. Cotton frauds as developed by the investigation of the Congressional commission are assuming prodigious proportions.

The arrest of Ortega proves to have been Sheridan's voluntary act, but has since been approved by the Government.

From Jamaica.

Kingston Jamaica, dates to the 16th say the Coolie trade has been revived. The Jamaica Legislature met on 6th. Complaints were rife of high duties and obnoxious laws.

The Russian Loan.

London Nov 22—The new Russian loan for seventy millions francs has already met with great success one third of the amount having already been taken with a certain prospect that the whole will be taken.

The Herald's Washington special says it is insinuated in certain circles that the French Government has declared the purpose to withdraw its arrangement concluded with Mr Seward to withdraw the troops from Mexico before winter, and now postpones the withdrawal until spring. It is believed that this subject was before the Cabinet yesterday.

Terrible Effects of the Hurricane in the Bahamas.

New York, Nov 24—The effects of the late hurricane at the Bahama Islands are appalling. A letter to the people in a speech to the Legislature. He says: I have had a time in collecting and making public connected information as to the ravages of the storm. Suffice it here to say upwards of 600 dwellings were destroyed and an equal number injured. Scarcely a public building escaped unharmed. Many places of religious worship and school houses were blown down and injured. Of 242 vessels and boats floating in this harbor on the first of October, all but one were sunk or driven ashore before the next day had dawned, and 180 of them were broken up or greatly injured. Standing crops of provisions and fruits have been destroyed orchards partially uprooted and fields and gardens to a great extent laid bare. The out islands generally exhibit a similar spectacle. The sum of $3,750,000 was voted by the Legislature to repair damages. The work of restoration is progressing rapidly.

The French and Mexican Question

Washington, Nov 22—About the middle of October the French Minister of State addressed this Government proposing to change the programme agreed upon last June between Minister Bigelow and Drouyn de l'Huys for the evacuation of Mexico. Instead of removing the troops in detachments, by sending in November and ending six months thereafter, it was proposed to embark all in one body about the first of January. Our Government replied through Bigelow that it adhered to the original programme, and hoped there would be no delay in the sailing of the first detachment. Last Monday Marquis Montholon communicated to Seward that Napoleon desired more time for the general evacuation and proposing to defer it for four months. The President and Cabinet, after due consideration, directed Seward to reply that this Government see no good reason for any deviation from the programme of June last which was proposed wholly by the French Minister at that time and accepted by the United States, which now insists on its terms being fully carried out. This decision was communicated to Montholon to-day, and also probably to Gen Dix before his departure.

The Herald Washington correspondent, says since the special Cabinet meeting on Thursday there has been the greatest interest to know its purpose. We are enabled to state positively that the Cabinet was called together to consider the declaration of France that she cannot withdraw from Mexico before next spring, when it is proposed to withdraw entirely. This is in violation of the agreement between Seward and Drouyn de l'Huys and on the notification of it comes at this late day our Government is not disposed to put full confidence in any further promises of Napoleon. This subject was further considered in the Cabinet meeting on Friday; General Grant being present by special invitation of the President. It is believed Minister Bix is instructed to demand the immediate withdrawal of the French troops. A steamer has sailed from New Orleans with Government dispatches to Campbell and Sherman at Tampico or Vera Cruz.

Talk of a New Programme

Leading Republican Congressmen are maturing a plan for the government of the Southern States as soon as their probable refusal to accept the Constitutional Amendment shall be positively known, to reduce those States to a state of territorial condition, modified to meet their peculiar circumstances.

The Quartermaster's Department.

General Meigs has cash funds sufficient, with what will be derived from sales of property, to run the Quartermaster's department another year without further appropriations from Congress.

Commercial Report.

New York, Nov 24—The flour market opened 10 and 15 cents better and closed dull with the advance lost. Good brands are quoted at $11 20 and $12 25. Flour has been greatly depressed during the past week and, at times, quite a panic prevailed. Owing to large arrivals the decline in gold and the stringency in money, prices declined 50 and 75 cents per barrel on low and medium grades and 50 cents on fancy brands. This concession has developed a demand for export. Wheat opened one and two cents better with a fair demand for export but closed quiet. Sales, 82,56, for white Genesee, $3 50. Winter wheat has been much neglected and closes heavy and lower.

The dry goods trade shows a signs of stagnation at the close of the week than for several days previous. There is a light demand for goods which are filled at prices highly favorable to buyers, but there is still an unconfortable feeling but at rest to. The Commercial says the tone of the market oscillates continually between recovery and reaction, but upon the whole there is a subdued gain in confidence. Instruments are general ly strong. The failures of the week having brought out large orders to buy, especially from the interior. The steamer to-day took out $692,000 in specie.

Gen John A Dix sailed to-day for Paris, and at the latest moment receives instructions by a special messenger from Washington.

Collision and Loss of Lives

Chicago, Nov. 24—The Lake Superior propeller Lac La Belle and Detroit steamer Milwaukee collided on Friday evening. The propeller sunk immediately. Ten lives lost. The propeller was valued at $25,000 and had a heavy cargo.

The Sufferers at Quebec.

Quebec, Nov 24—A large number of temporary sheds have been erected in the Queen street in which many of those burned out by the late fire will find shelter for the winter. A great many are emigrating to the United States.

Officers of the Atlantic Steamship Company

New York Nov 24—The directors of the Atlantic Mail Steamship Company have elected Allen McLane President, Francis W Bullus Vice President, Theodore F Johnson, Secretary Charles Abbott Treasurer.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

London Nov 22—The four per cent Russian loan of seventy million francs has already met with great success one third of the amount having already been taken with a certain prospect that the whole will be taken.

London, Nov 23—The money market steady. Consols closed at 89 3-8@89⅝.

Liverpool Nov 24, noon—Breadstuffs firm.

London, Nov 24—The Paris bourse continues. Many arrests and secret trials have been made and many spotted. The whole army of Paris expresses the belief that Maximilian has still control. It looks for intervention of the United States but hopes that Seward's results will follow. It is reported that twenty thousand Spanish troops have landed at Tampico or Vera Cruz.

Paris, Nov 24—An order in council to the Government of Spain is liable to occur at any moment. There are rumors that the Queen will abdicate to avert the threatened storm.

Florence Nov 24—It is reported that Petruzzi will succeed Baron Ricasoli in the foreign office and that the Italian Government will renew negotiations with the Pope.

Berlin Nov 23—The Prussian Chambers have voted on censuring the Government for not having built railroads without their sanction.

The Allgemeine Zeitung, an official journal, urges the necessity of giving the suffrage to the negroes. We remember that during the first months of the war the rebels tried to save their cause by arming the slaves, but the expedient did not succeed. Johnson cannot save himself by giving the negroes the bullet.

A Yearly—The choicest and most effective cure for the Lung Disease, Nature has provided in Nature's Pulmonary Syrup. A certain, safe and speedy cure for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. It is equally effective in adult or infantile cases and can be had with [illegible] and certainly free [illegible] of Poisonous Opiates. Use no other if this [illegible] can be had.

Dec 6.—The Council met last evening pursuant to adjournment—Mr Hallock presided. All the members. The first business was the election of a Mayor for the ensuing year.

Mr Lownsdale nominated R B Thompson

Mr Ladd nominated T J Holmes

The roll was then gone through with, and it was found that Mr Holmes had five votes and R B Thompson four. Mr Holmes was declared duly elected. (Applause.)

The report of Superintendent Walker of the dredger for the weeks ending Nov 12, 19 and 26 was received and ordered placed on file. The report states that the total mentioned a total of 8,—loads—) subtracting the amount of debris had been removed, on Nov 19 the river was 2 feet above low water mark and Nov 26th it was 4 feet. In the channel as the work progressed up the river in the proportion of ground contains more sand and gravel and is more easily worked. The Superintendent thinks that when the tough blue clay of the lower end of the work is worked out, the current will clean out the rest. The original length of the bar was about 1,600 feet of which 800 feet are now dredged.

Mr McCraken offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on River Improvements to sell the boulders of the city at a rate not less than 25 per cent in sufficient sums to pay off the indebtedness of the River Improvement fund. The resolution was adopted.

The Council adjourned.

Justice's Court.—Hoffman Junor.—On Monday the 26th Mary Claydad, charged with assault and battery, was fined $10 and Yesterday, charged with an assault with deadly weapon in resisting police officer Hudson while making an arrest, had to answer in the Circuit Court. Being already under commitment for another offence, and it being probable the charge would be lumped into by the Grand Jury, on the expiration of his present term of confinement, no bonds were fixed. Page for the prosecution, Cronin for the defence. The defence set up that the arrest of Cockland by officer Hudson was without a warrant, and there being nothing to show that a felony had been committed, was unlawful, and therefore, Cockland was simply resisting an assault made upon him by the officer. His Honor did not see it in that light, and so held the prisoner to answer.

John Rosen, who represented himself as a farmer living on Sauvie's Island was brought up on a charge of larceny, pleaded guilty but in consideration of being a first offence, and having been in jail since Monday, was let off with an admonition to not repeat the act.

The case of the city vs. P J McGowan, defendant charged with obstructing the side-walk on Front street corner of Yamhill, occupied the police court all the afternoon. The defendant pleaded not guilty and after a lengthy trial, was acquitted it appearing to the satisfaction of the Recorder that another party was responsible for the obstruction.

Sin Fines of the Canned Goods Question.—The question of law concerning the stamping of canned goods, has been under discussion for some time and has been decided that all canned goods offered for sale after the 3d of October, must have stamps affixed, there still remained a question as to the relation to goods manufactured before that time and in relation to goods in schooners.

The following letter of instructions from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated Washington, Oct. 31, 1866, to the U S Assessor at New York, will settle the question definitely, and be the probable rule of all parties:—"Sir.—In answer to your letter dated 24 inst., I have to say that all canned goods, after in the hands of the manufacturer or purchaser, on or after the 1st day of Oct. 1866, are required to be stamped as specified in schedule C, of the act of July 13, 1866. When canned goods have been sold in cases, and it would be difficult and expensive to unpack them and affix the requisite stamps, the parties will have complied substantially with the law if, as said, the manufacturer encloses in an envelope to the purchaser a sufficient number of cancelled stamps to affix when the goods are unpacked."

Incorporated at Oregon City.—The City Council of Oregon City, last week passed an ordinance authorizing the grading of Bluff street which runs parallel with Main street, and after having once opened running along the river front. The alley running through block 28 and connecting Main and Bluff streets, is to be McAdamized and the alleys are to be graded as soon as the city finances will permit. Thus it will be seen, Oregon City is not to be left behind in the march of improvement, but is spreading and beginning to extend hard upon the heels of the fact, as Mister Lowell has it, is a growing city and, like most prosperous people, is beginning to spend money; not to put too fine a point on it, Mister Lowell is going to take on airs.

While ... ing by the Academy yesterday morning, his attention was arrested by sounds of martial music and the measured tread of youthful feet, and on investigation was discovered that Prof Gatch was drilling the pupils of the athletic establishment which is advanced in our city. The boys and girls put their parts gracefully, and judging from their appearance, they were highly pleased with that mode of exercise. We hope to see it generally adopted in all the schools of the city, for aside from the benefit derived from the exercise in developing them for their mental labors, it will at the same time promote physical strength, which is so often lost by those who leave the nursery of youth.

Grand Lodge.—After the Re... —The members of the Grand Lodge, Masons, were invited, after the business of last evening, to call on the Mayor elect at the First Cheer House where they met Mr Holmes and a number of a bountiful collation—cakes, wine, etc., provided at his order. The Mayor was, of course, called on for a response, he said that he would pledge his efforts for the good of the city, and if the choice of himself should give satisfaction or in harmony with the city's best interests, it would result not from any effort of his own, on his part to promote the public good. After a short hour, the assembly parted in excellent humor.

Fancy Fair.—The Fair at Oro Fino Hall continues a most decided success.—The room was crowded during the whole of last evening, and the investments of ... in lotteries, fortune-telling, and bonbonieres from gay young misses in their teens ... gratis—were something beyond understanding, except by those who know the power of woman's smile. If you go to the Fair—and you ought not to fail to do that—put money in your purse and keep it there.

Liquor Law.—On yesterday the City Council's committee on streets, pursuant to advertisement, had accepted a bid from John Breuer, for the ... the ravine at the junction of Front and Jefferson streets—at the old bridge—for the sum of $2,424 80. The contract for filling ... contains a wooden drain, side hill cross-walks, re-grading said Mc Adamizing, in accordance with the Mayor's ... down—$2,424 80. The filling is to about three thousand and five hundred cubic yards.

Circuit Court.—Justice Judson.—The proceedings, Monday, 26th, were as follows. The People's Transportation Co. vs. J W. Smith.—judgment for plaintiff for $200 75.——Geo. A Leach was appointed and sworn as Deputy Sheriff of Oregon to ... Jas. Vance, indicted for keeping a tippling house on Sunday.——Jury impannelled and sworn.——Verdict—guilty—fined $10 and costs.—State of Oregon vs. Jas Vance—Jury impannelled and most of the day occupied in hearing testimony.

Prayer Meeting.—The noon-day prayer meetings of the Baptist Church in this city, are still continued and are attracting a considerable interest and producing a deep feeling. Those who have persevered so far in attending these meetings up, are beginning to manifest their efforts have not been in vain, and that good seed will ere long result from them.

Fat Hogs.—We learn that a couple of our citizens intend to go into the chicken business on an extensive scale, about three miles south of Portland on the ... road. It is the intention to construct ... and carry on the business on the French style, and to stock the place with ... or three thousand of the feathered tribe as soon as they can be obtained.

Business.—Manager.—Those interested in the dowry ... ment days will consult the new advertisement on ... page. The Ranger hereafter will make three ... of two trips each week, going through the Slough ... The time of leaving here is changed to 6:30 A.M.

Post Boat, Dis.—Business Card.—The P T Co.'s steamboat Active leaves Oregon City this morning for Eugene City, being the first boat of the season for the upper Willamette. The ... boat leaves on Wednesday with U S Mail. The trade and freight lists ... of business in that direction.

Public Notice.—The members of Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I O O F, are requested to meet at their Hall at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, J. Koplitze. Visiting brothers are invited to attend. By order of N G

Two Little Pairs of Boots.

Two little pairs of boots to-night,
Before the fire are drying
Two little pairs of tired feet
In a trundle bed are lying,
The tracks they left upon the floor
Make me feel much like a thing

Those little boots with copper toes!
They ran the livelong day
And seem almost as much at home
Where mud is plenty as the snow
They will up in marbles round
Then bale it hit or miss
At times at night upon the floor
In every shape it defies

To say I was disposed to scold,
But when I look to night
At those little boots before the fire,
With copper toes so bright
I think how sad my heart would be
To put them out of sight

We mothers worry get and worn,
Over our land of care,
But how we speak of little ones
Let each of us beware,
For what would our homes be-sides be to-night,
If no little boots were there

Singular Discovery—A Colony of Jews in the Heart of China.

[Correspondence of the New York Times, October 23d.]

PEKIN, China, June, 1866.—The city of Kai fung fee, the Capital of Honan, is famous as an ancient Capital of the Empire, and the scene of stirring events in the history of China. To the Christian world, however, it possesses a deeper interest as the residence of a Jewish colony. They were discovered by the celebrated Father Ricci, and early in the seventeenth century, full inquiries concerning their usages and manuscripts were made by Jesuit missionaries who resided in that city. In 1850 a deputation of native Christians was sent among them by the Bishop of Victoria and the late Doctor Medhurst. Two of the Jews were induced to go to Shanghae, and some of their Hebrew manuscripts obtained, but up to the date of my journey, for more than a century and a half, they had not, so far as we are informed, been visited by any European. It became, therefore, a matter of interest to ascertain their present condition, and, as I remarked in my last letter, this was the chief consideration that induced me to make Kai fung-fee a point in the course of my inland travels. What others may have published I shall not repeat, but as concisely as possible lay before you a review of my own observations.

Arriving in this city on the 17th of February, I inquired for the Jewish synagogue, but getting no satisfactory answer, I went for information to a Mohammedan mosque, of which there are no fewer than six. I was well received by the moolis, and the advent of a stranger from the West, who was believed to be a worshipper of the "true Lord," soon attracted a large concourse of the faithful. At the request of the mulli, building a New Testament in my hand, I addressed them in relation to the contents of the holy book of Jesus, whose name he pronounced with great respect as that of the most illustrious of their prophets, Mohammed of course excepted.

The Jews he denounced as "Kafirs," and evinced no very poignant sorrow when he informed me that their synagogue had come to desolation. "It was," he assured me, "utterly demolished, and the people who had worshipped there scattered abroad." "Then," said I, "I will go and see the spot on which it stood," and I directed the bearers of my sedan to proceed to the place indicated by the mulli. I passed through streets crowded with curious spectators until I came to an open square, in the center of which there stood a solitary stone. On one side was an inscription commemorating the erection of the synagogue in the reign of the Sung dynasty, A. D. 1163, and referring the first arrival of the Jews in China to the dynasty of Hon. B. C. 200—A. D. 200.

On the other side was a record of its re-building in the dynasty of Ming, about three hundred years ago, but in addition to these inscriptions, I observed an unwritten record of decay and ruin, for was inscribed with Ichabod, "The glory is departed."

Standing on the pedestal, and resting my right hand on the head of that stone which was to be a silent witness of the truths I was about to utter, I explained to the congregated multitude my reasons for "taking pleasure in the stones of Israel and favoring the dust thereof." I then inquired if there were any of the Jews among my readers. "I am one," responded a young man, whose face corroborated his assertion, and then another and another stepped forward, until I saw before me six of the seven families into which the colony is now divided.

There, on this melancholy spot, where the very foundations of the synagogue had been torn from the ground, and there no longer remained one stone upon another, they confessed to me with shame and grief that their "holy and beautiful house" had been demolished by their own hands. It had long been in a ruinous condition—they had no money to repair the breaches of the sanctuary. They had lost all knowledge of the sacred tongue, the traditions of the fathers were no longer handed down and their ritual worship had ceased to be observed. In the state of things they had yielded to the pressure of necessity and disposed of the timbers and stones of that venerable edifice to obtain relief for their bodily wants.

In the evening some of them came to my lodgings, bringing for my inspection a roll of the law, and the next day, the Christian Sabbath, they repeated their visit, listening attentively to all I had to say concerning the relations of the Law of Moses to the Gospel of Christ. They were very ignorant, but answered, as far as they were able, my inquiries in regard to their past history and present state. Two of them appeared in official costume, one wearing a gilt and the other a crystal ball on the top of his cap; but far from sustaining the general character of the people for thrift, they number among them none that are rich, and few who are not pinched by poverty. Some, indeed, true to their hereditary instincts, are employed in a small way in brokage establishments (the first man I saw was a money-changer) others keep fruit stores and cake shops, a few do a business in old clothes, or pursue various handicrafts, while a few find employment in military service.

The prevalence of rebellion in the central provinces for the last thirteen years has told sadly on the prosperity of Kai-fung-fee; and the Jews have not unlikely owing to the nature of their occupations been, the greatest sufferers. Their number, they estimate, though not very exactly, at from two to four hundred. They are unable to trace their tribal pedigree, keep no register, and never, on any occasion, assemble together as one congregation.

Until recently they had a common center in this venerated synagogue, though their liturgical service had long been discontinued. Now, however, the congregation seems to be following the fate of their building. No bond of union remains, and they are in danger of being speedily absorbed by Mohammedanism or heathenism. One of them, to my knowledge, has become a priest of Buddha, taking, not very consistently, for his sacerdotal name, the character Pei tan, which signify "One who is rooted and grounded in truth." The large tablet that once adorned the entrance of the synagogue, bearing on it the name of Israel, has been appropriated by a Mohammedan mosque, and some others have been made to draw the people over to the faith of Mahomet, from which their practices differ so little that their heathen neighbors have never been able to distinguish them from Moslems.

One of my visitors was a son of the last of their rabbis, who, some thirty or forty years ago, died in the province of Khnsh. With him perished the knowledge of the sacred tongue, and though they still preserve several copies of the Jewish scriptures, there is not a man among them who can read a word of Hebrew. Nothing ago it was seriously proposed to expose their parchment to public view in the market place, in hopes they might attract the attention of some wandering Jew, who would be able to restore to them the language of their fathers. Since the cessation of their ritual worship their children all grew up without the seal of the covenant. The young generation are uncircumcised, and as might be expected, they no longer take pains to keep their blood pure from intermixture with Gentiles. One of them confessed to me that his wife was a heathen. They remember the names of the Feast of Tabernacles, the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and a few other commanded rites which were practised by a former generation, but all such usages are now neglected, and next half century is not unlikely to put a period to their existence as a distinct people.

In the margin of the Poyang Lake stands a lofty rock, so peculiar and so solitary that it is known by the name of the Little Orphan. Its kindred rocks are all on the other side of the lake, whence it seems to have been torn away by some violent convulsion and planted immovably in the bosom of the waters. Such, to me, appeared that fragment of the Israelitish nation. A rock rent from the sides of Mount Zion by some great national catastrophe and projected into this central plain of China, it stands there an "orphan" colony, sublime in its antiquity and solitude. But it is now on the verge of being swallowed up by the surrounding flood, and the spectacle is a mournful one. The Jews themselves are deeply conscious of their sad situation, and the shadow of an inevitable destiny seems to be resting upon them.

Poor, unhappy people! As they inquired about the destruction of the Holy City and the dispersion of the tribes, and referred to their own decaying condition, what could I do more than point them but point to Him who is the consolation of Israel. True, I told them the city of the Father was broken down and their people scattered and peeled, but the straw was not to be taken from them until they yielded precious seed for its containing in other fields. The dishes had not been broken quantity of the true bread in for preparing them for the feasting waters over the face of the earth. Christian civilization with its great results, had sprung from a Jewish root, and the promise to Abraham had already included that in his seed all the nations of the earth should be blessed.

AN ANTIQUARIAN FOUND.—There is hung up in the meat market next door to the Post office, in the form of a crescent, an old firearm which seems a cross between a heavy Swivel post gun and an old style musket. It is covered all over with rust and mould and looks like a vestige of the early days of firearms. The old thing was shipped out of a mining claim a few miles up Elk creek, at a depth of twelve feet from the surface. A short time ago a queer old chap who announced himself as an antiquarian, called in to see the gun. He took it in his hands, gave it a critical examination and at once proceeded to give its probable history in an antiquarian point of view. He knew all about it as well as the architect who made it. He could not be, he was not mistaken about it. He knew his history of the piece was correct, and any person who doubted, questioned, or doubted it, was either an ignoramus a skeptic or a "cussed idiot." He knew the weapon was an old Spanish firearm of the sixteenth century. It had probably originally belonged to the troops who came to the lower Pacific coast with Balboa, Cortez or Pizarro, and had been bartered and sold, and undergone changes of ownership until, more than a hundred years ago, it was lost here by some adventurous explorer, and a great land slide had afterwards buried it in the spot where it was found by the miners. As the old fellow warmed up in his enthusiastic discourse a by-stander took the weapon and grasp it a closer inspection. Pretty soon he scraped a shell of rust from off the lock, looked sharply at the spot, and with his finger pointed to the place asked the old gentleman to "read that." There were the letters and figures, which no kind of argument could overcome. The old man put on his specs, took a longer, closer look, then gave the person who called his attention to the matter a momentary savage glance, and, dropping the gun as if it were red hot, bolted hastily from the market. The inscription on the lock was simply this: "London, 1850." Not much sixteenth century manufacture about that old brown. Antiquarian lore was badly lowered. Has any body seen that old man since?—Idaho World.

WOULD MAKE JOHNSON DICTATOR.—Rather than the Republicans should rule the nation the Rebels would consent to be governed by a pro slavery Dictator. Mr. Seward's question, "Will you have Andrew Johnson as President or King?" is answered by the Augusta (S. C.) Press, which argues that "a Dictatorship is feasible and possible." The following paragraph is noteworthy:

What has been done can be done again, and there is no reason to doubt that the American people would submit to a Dictator with as good grace and as much enthusiasm as over did those of the countries we have named. President Johnson, as a Dictator, with a view to crush out Radicalism, and to restore the Union to its former unity, power and greatness, would have little difficulty in carrying out his programme. It might be said that he would have no army to sustain him. Ah! least of difficulties is it to manage an army. There would be no lack of bayonets and swords to sustain the Dictator and under his power, thus concentrated and made effective, opposing forces would melt like snow beneath the rays of a noonday sun.

A SOUTHERN RECTOR OF REBEL VIOLENCE.—The Southern Christian Advocate thus rebukes the lawless spirit displayed in various parts of the South:

There are here and there in the South violent and bloody men, who are not only breaking all the laws of God, but bringing disgrace upon the whole land by their infamous deeds. We see now and then that a negro church or school house has been burned down, a congregation of worshipers disturbed, and blood sometimes shed, and other acts of violence and lawlessness sometimes committed, which every good man must deprecate. It is the duty of our authorities to find out, arrest and punish the offenders, and we trust that it will be done. Every act of this kind is a direct blow given to our liberties and a pledge of future evil to the whole country.

MARK TWAIN ON ETIQUETTE.—Etiquette varies according to one's surroundings. In the mining camps of California, when a friend tenders you a "smile," or invites you to take a blister—you gayly called a drink—it is etiquette to say, "Here's hoping your dirt may pan out gay." In Washoe, when you are requested to "put in a blast" or invited to take your "regular poison," etiquette admonishes you to touch glasses and say, "Here's hoping you'll strike it rich in the lower level." And in Honolulu when your friend, the whaler, asks you to take a "bill" with him, it is simple etiquette to say, "Here's eighteen hundred barrels, old sat." But "drink hearty" is universal. That is the orthodox reply the world over.

In San Francisco, sometimes, if you offend a man, he proposes to take his coat off, and inquires, "Are you on it?" If you are, you can take your coat off too. In Virginia City, in former times, the insulted party, if he were a true man, would lay his hand gently on his six-shooter and say, "Are you heeled?" But in Honolulu, if Smith offends Jones, Jones asks (with a rising inflection on the last word, which is excessively aggravating), "How much do you weigh?" "Sixteen hundred and forty pound—and you?" "Two ton to a dot—at a quarter past eleven this forenoon—peel yourself, you're my blubber!"

A CURE FOR COLDS AND COLD FEET.—An exchange says: Some time since in St. Louis, Mike McLaughlin was attacked with the cholera. Pat McCue, a friend of Mike's, went for Dr. Ste Aulaire, and was very particular to follow the Doctor's directions. The usual internal remedies were given, and the patient was ordered to be rubbed vigorously. The Doctor told Pat that if Mike died it would be of cold feet, and that he must rub his legs and keep his feet warm. Pat and a friend accordingly went to work and rubbed Mike until the skin peeled off. In the middle of the night Mike's feet began to get very cold, and all the rubbing the men could bestow upon them would not restore their natural warmth. Pat determined that his friend should not die of cold feet, so he built a big fire in the large cooking stove, and when it was nearly red hot he took the stove to pieces, laid the plates on the floor, and he and his friend lifted Mike out of bed, took hold of him under the arms, and made him walk over the hot iron plates for three or four hours. This treatment had the effect of warming Mike's feet, and his life was saved.

WIFE'S COMMANDMENTS.—1. Thou shalt have no other wife but me. 2. Thou shalt not take note thy house any beautiful brazen image of a servant girl to bow down to her and serve her, for I am a jealous wife visiting, etc. 4. Thou shalt not take the name of thy wife in vain. 4. Remember thy wife to keep her respectably. 5. Honor thy wife's father and mother. 6. Thou shalt not fret. 7. Thou shalt not find fault with thy dinner. 8. Thou shalt not chew tobacco. 9. Thou shalt not be behind thy neighbor. 10. Thou shalt not visit the rum tavern, thou shalt not covet the tavern keeper's rum, nor his brandy, nor his wine, nor anything that is behind the bar of the rum seller. 11. Thou shalt not visit the billiard hall. And the 12th commandment is—Thou shalt not stay out later than nine o'clock at night.

OLD THAD STEVENS.—The man of all others in the loyal Congress, whom the Copperheads execrate, hate, and I might add, fear is old Thad Stevens. Moses Johnson, while "ranging the circle," in the directness of hate, said why don't you hang Thad Stevens. The people of Lancaster county, who have known "Old Thad," boy and man, these seventy odd years, have replied to these malignants by re-electing him to Congress by a 600 majority—larger than ever given him before. Won't Andy Johnson "or any other man," try to hang Old Thad Stevens.

COPPER JOHNSON.—A new and valuable gold mine has been opened in Humbolt Hill, called the "Andy Johnson" and located in Table Mountain, thirty miles South of Unionville, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin, in which the Buffalo Express remarks: "Two years ago the Republican party opened what it thought was a valuable gold mine, having the same name. There was a good surface show but it turned out to be all copper at the bottom."

MRS. BOOTH AT CUNNINGHAM.—The San Francisco Times says: "Late Eastern papers state that this lady, who created such a sensation in New York some years since, was among the victims who perished by the wreck of the ill fated steamer Evening Star. This is an error. Mrs. Cunningham is at present a resident of this city. She some seven years since married a gentleman named Haynes, who is possessed of considerable property at Loretto, Lower California."

To Soldiers Claiming Bounties

UNDER THE

EQUALIZATION BOUNTY BILL!

THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RECENTLY RETURNED from Washington City, where he has made the proper arrangements for the collection of the Extra Bounty of $100 allowed to all soldiers enlisted after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years and $50 for soldiers enlisted for a period of not less than two years.

Persons entitled to the benefits of said Bounty will find it to their interest to attend to its collection at once. Having an Agent at Washington, and personal knowledge of the mode of making collections through the Department, I can get returns promptly.

Call with your Discharge and two witnesses for identification, at the Recruiting Office of the Daily Oregonian, No 5 First [illegible] St., Portland.

A. BUSHNELL, Claim Agent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, September 15, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within two years of six months from the 1st day of October 1866 in which any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and in further addition that he has not received or is entitled to receive from the United States under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28 1866 more than $100 bounty for any and all military services rendered by him during the late rebellion, except emoluments thereto claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Necessary Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take from the records the original muster and pay rolls.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the Law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, &c. If the claims allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be stated, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States or called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards, &c., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for three years or during the war who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war and have rendered as long service as the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of passage. Parents shall receive jointly the sum to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. No payment in the United States shall be made to aliens or heirs, who would not, if residents, be legally entitled.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of the enlistment were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service but not occasioned by it as is required in the line of duty. Those who shall have received not less than three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since the date of the wounds or disease contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who have received previous bounty, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers who are entitled to bounty under this act, and have loaned, transferred exchanged, or in any other way parted with any other Acts of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July 1866 creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the laws of which it so bears or does not give any right to bounty to any party other than those entitled by the laws of the several States.

Respectful referral to the Act and joint resolution approved July 28, 1866, is further the rules under it will be amended strength and finally with Law.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE NEW LIGHT!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those of wealth in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study in which capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of annoyance, the smoke and unpleasantness, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided. It is the most perfect lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps. It is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than 2½ cents per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one cent. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wick will not blow out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Stranahan & Dufresne, corner of Morrison and First streets.
